

Get Listed on the Humboldt Park Portal!

The Humboldt Park Portal is a new business, civic, arts and community website where residents and others can learn about the neighborhood, plug into local resources and share the Humboldt Park experience. Created by a coalition of local nonprofits, community organizations and nonprofits, the Portal is one of many digital tools we are building to create a stronger community.

Early this Fall the Humboldt Park Portal will be online. Once it is open, residents and local institutions can post news, events, directory listings, videos—information about our neighborhood that is useful and interesting. And it's all free.

Help Us Prepare: Join the Directory

This August, we are gathering information for the Humboldt Park Portal, so readers can learn about the neighborhood as soon as the Portal goes online. Please send in information to have a page in our Directory of local businesses and nonprofits. It's a great way to tell the community and the world about your work.

Required information:

- Name
- Address
- Telephone Number
- Are you a Business or a Nonprofit
- Description (can be as short as a sentence or as long as many paragraphs)

Optional information:

You can also include:

- Your logo
- More contact options: Email address, fax #, link to your own website, etc
- Detailed information (examples might be a menu, a list of accomplishments, a membership form, or the hours when you're open)
- Photo(s) and You Tube videos
- Links to articles about your group, other sites, etc.
- PDF documents for readers to see more

Stay Tuned: The Humboldt Park Portal Will be Online Soon

We expect thousands of readers every month will visit the Humboldt Park Portal once it's online. You'll be able to edit and improve your directory listing—and we hope you post local events and interesting news items on the site as well. Look for us online at humboldtparkportal.org very soon!
